But we intend to greatly disappoint all such.

Our Business Increase.

To one unacquainted with our sort of business it may seem strange that there has been anything in the season just past or in that of the present to warrant the enlargement of our facilities with the expectation of any great increase of trade; but while we know the general cry during the past season to have been one of "dull trade,"

W. P. WALTON.

Anent Mr. Blaine's Card.

Our columns are always open to an honest man who desires to be heard upon a question of public interest, however narrow or puerile his views may be. We therefore publish Mr. Blaine's card "to the voters of Lincoln county" in to-day's issue, and our only regret about the matter is to find so clever a gentleman, occupying such a wrong headed and illiberal position regarding a question of general concern.

Does Mr. Blaine, or any intelligent person, for that matter, really believe that the only or the chief benefit to this county to be derived from the building of the Chesapeake and Nashville road—a great trunk line from the south west to New York, Philadelphia, Washington, and the Virginia portion of the Atlantic which would double our wealth and population in five years—is the mere tax to be derived from a county levy on its road-bed? If he does, or if it were true, then his cheese paring argument as to the possible expense to the county of $7,000 or $8,000 to obtain it might have some relevancy or weight. Does he really believe that the court's dictum in the Topeka case has any great or pertinent reference to the proposition before us, which is simply whether or not we can afford to treat with contemptuous courtesy the projectors of a great public enterprise which no one doubts will be of the greatest public benefit? If he does he should in common consistency be opposed to the taxation of the people of the county for aid to turnpikes and public roads. Yet neither he nor any one else has ever been heard to object to this wise and beneficial expenditure of the public money. "To lay with one hand the power of the Government on the property of the citizen and with the other bestow it upon favored individuals, to aid private enterprises and build up private fortunes, is none the less robbery because it is done under the forms of the law and is called taxation." We are not lawyer enough to dispute with Mr. Blaine on a question of authority. But isn't he mistaken as to the animus, the motive of this vigorous sentence? It hardly reads to us like a denunciation of a public spirited effort on the part of a local community to avail itself of a great, a dazzling opportunity such as this road offers us. It rather sounds like the indignant expression of an honest man's opinion of the tariff to protect American industries, which we understand has Mr. Blaine's hearty approval.

But we do not propose any extended comment on what we are forced to regard as an ill timed and ill-advised production. We merely wish to call attention to two or three points which seem to us destructive to Mr. Blaine's argument even on the narrow basis he chooses to place it on. The proposition is to purchase a right of way through the county not exceeding $25,000 in cost. Mr. Blaine assumes that it will cost the full amount. But the best considered estimates do not place the cost beyond $15,000. 15 miles of road 75 feet wide will take 133 acres, the actual value of which at a high estimate would be $50 per acre or $6,500. Add as much more for incidental damage, which when the county and not a foreign corporation has the bills to settle is also a liberal estimate and we have even less than $15,000. Again Mr. Blaine assumes that our bonds could only be floated at 6 per cent. The truth is they can easily be floated at 5 per cent, and at par.

Again the exact language of the proposition submitted and of the act of the Legislature by virtue of which it is enshrinéd is that the right of way when acquired is to be disposed of by the county, "to the railroad company upon such reasonable terms and in such manner as to compensation as may be agreed upon by said county through its commissioners and said railroad company," and these commissioners are to be appointed by the county court composed of all the justices of the peace and the county judge.

Yet Mr. Blaine, who is clerk of the county court, wrote these words in his order book and copied them again for publication, assumes that the right-of-way, which we simply propose to sell to the railroad, is to be given to it outright. Comment upon the value or cador of such a plan is wholly unnecessary.

We understand that a committee appointed by the railroad meeting and consisting of quite a number of prudent, sagacious and public spirited citizens from all parts of the county, will shortly present the whole matter, fairly and dispassionately in an address to their neighbors and friends of Lincoln county. When our people clearly understand the purpose and scope of the proposal on which they are soon to vote we can not believe that there will be any serious opposition to it. This because we live in an enlightened and progressive age and because our people are in the main, an enlightened and progressive people.

In the mean time and in the most kindly spirit, we beg to remind Mr. Blaine and those who believe with him of the tragic fate of the traditional hull which attempted to butt the train off the bridge. He was a bridle bull of the true Albany breed with a curly forehead and a stumpy tail, and was as brave as a lion; but he was bought in the light of subsequent events, he have been lacking in discretion.

MOSBY, the renegade Confederate General is succeeded at Hong Kong by Gen. Withers, who did not sell himself for life.

It gives us pleasure to inform his friends and no man ever had truer than Hon. M. J. Durham, of the good work he is accomplishing as First Controller of the Treasury. He has made many marked improvements in his department, but none will meet with greater approbation than that made this week. It has been held therefore that the accounting officers of the Treasury had no right to revise the accounts of Chief Supervisors as to the amount and character of work to be done. The question came before Mr. Durham in the case of William Muirhead, Chief Supervisor of New Jersey, and the decision was that the accounts could be revised, and all illegal or unnecessary items disallowed. In the case of Mr. Muirhead over $9,000 was disallowed.

THE war cloud is gathering thick and heavy in the old world and an outbreak is threatened daily. It must of necessity be a terrible struggle; many battles will be fought; many will be killed outright and many will be wounded to live a life worse than death, but a large speculator cares for none of these things, they are bound to put money in his pocket. The farmer too will reap a rich harvest from the seas of blood that will flow.

LEXINGTON would honor herself by electing John O. Hodges to the Legislature. He is a true and capable man with no tinge of the demagogue in him. Hon. James H. Mulligan is a bright and eloquent fellow, but some of his actions in the last Legislature did not particular impress us with the entire absence of certain peculiar traits of the politician.

THE Winchester Sun thinks that naming a Jackass or an editor, Jumbo, is based on the distinguished elephant which bears the name, than on the pair of Jessamine animals which now claim it. Brother Bosley is generally pretty level-headed, but we think he is lacking in discretion in making this remark. Jumbo Metcalf is a terrible man when aroused.

THE Peak family of the Swiss Bell Ringers are having their lives unnecessarily prolonged, considering the infliction they have visited on the public in the long years of the past. The senior member of the family celebrated his 77th birthday at Williamsburg, N. Y., this week and there are several nearly as old.

W. P. KIMBALL, who was elected to the Legislature on a voluntary promise to vote for Gen. Williams and by the aid of his money but who afterwards, bolted and went for Blackburn, is estabishing such epithets as "liar and slanderer" from Col. A. W. Hamilton who furnished the money. We hope there'll be a fight.

GOV. KNOTT very sensibly says that so long as Viley remains a refugee from justice he will take no cognizance of any petition for his pardon that may be presented to him. He will take action, however, when Viley places himself inside of the pale of law. Eminently correct is the Gov.

MR. SIMP. MARTIN, an old citizen of the Hall's Gap neighborhood, died yesterday after a long illness. He was 80 years of age.

We can fully recommend Mr. T. J. Biley and his force as competent painters. They gave us a splendid job, which speaks for itself.

MR. S. L. POWERS has accepted the pruning knife to his already low prices and our subscribers are offered the benefit of the cut in another column. All his prices are surprisingly low.

TUESDAY, March 1. T. Saunders delivered to J. Miller Newland, a colored youth, B. H. Jones, who has been assessed a fine of $25 and given ten days in jail for carrying a deadly weapon concealed.

THE more railroads we have the more turnpikes. We would almost be willing to guarantee that if the C. & N. is built through this county the Somerset turnpike will be built to the Pulaski line.

I HAVE some accounts of 1884, still unpaid and also some of 1885 for clover, timothy and oats, which should always be cash as they are handled on a close margin and we have to pay cash. I never ask my trade for money unless I really need it, and I ask all whom this includes to please come and settle. With thanks for patronage, W. H. Higgins.

The lectures of E. D. C. C. Cline, which are illustrated with stereoscopic views of places and people in the holy land, are intensely interesting and the church was crowded prior to the demand of an admission fee. The charge is now only 50 cents for three nights and surely none should object to paying when he gets many times the value of his money. The crowds are good, however, but there is no crowding as under the free rule. Mr. Cline's singing is a charming feature and more of it would be highly acceptable to all. The lectures close to night. A single admission is but 25 cents.

A THIRD more corn will be planted in this county this season than ever before.

It will be good news to some people to learn that Fountain Fox Bobbitt, owing to sickness, will not speak here next Monday.

The colored people are almost unanimous for the railroad proposition and Geo. W. Gentry, a leader among them, is going to make speeches in its favor.

NEW HOUSE.—Mr. S. H. Thompson, of Mt. Vernon, has the contract and is now putting up for Mr. Johnson, a neat frame house on the lot formerly belonging to Mr. Peter Straub, in Bienville.

The reduction of the price of admission to Prof. Hawes' lecture to 25 cents ought to fill the Presbyterian church next Monday night. The entertainment is for the benefit of the Sunday school.

MRS. MOODY HARRIS has fixed next Friday and Saturday, May 1st and 2d, for her millinery opening and cordially invites all the ladies of the vicinity to call and see her goods on those days.

MILLINERY.—Mrs. M. V. Taber will have an opening April 30th and 1st of May of a handsome assortment of summer millinery, patterns, bonnets, hats, &c., to which she invites the ladies of Stanford and vicinity to examine.

Mrs. C. REEDEN HARRIS and the lovely Miss Eliza Engleman were married at the bride's mother's, Mrs. L. E. Engleman, yesterday evening, and immediately afterwards left for a trip to New Orleans and other Southern cities. We wish them great happiness.

LAST CALL.—All indebted to us for 1884 will please call and settle at once, as we are in urgent need of the money. Also we will have to ask of our friends who have bought seeds and oats on credit to please call and settle, as these are cash goods everywhere. Bright & Curran.

OUR enterprising merchant, Mr. S. L. Powers, scooped in a page of the INTERIOR JOURNAL too late for us to issue a double sized paper this time but we will come out Tuesday enlarged to a 48 column issue so that our patrons will not lose their usual quota of reading matter. It contains fully $15 extra to print an edition doubled in size, but that is nothing compared with our contract with our subscribers.

OUR old friend, Capt. W. R. Snodgrass, is so handsome and lovable that the girls claim him for a husband whether or no. Mrs. Ruth Miller, of New York, is now in Louisville claiming that she is Snoddy's wedded wife but he disclaims as vigorously that she is not. Her story is that while returning from the South in bad health, fortune threw her in the company with the gallant Captain, who not only showed her every courtesy on his train but saw to her after her arrival in Louisville. After her return to New York she says that she indicated a very thankfulmissive to Snoddy, who repented in loving terms and an affectionate correspondence progressed for several months. He visited the great metropolis and while there, according to the woman, yielded to his entreaties to become his wife. The Capt. denies the soft impeachment and the woman has instituted legal steps to compel him to acknowledge her right to his name.

RELIGIOUS.

The "boy preacher," Harrison, has made a hundred converts at Louisville so far.

Rev. C. C. Smith, of Louisville, will preach a Logan's Creek church next Sunday at 11 o'clock.

The American Tract Society, which is now entering upon its 60th year, issues the bible in 147 languages and dialects. Last year its agents visited 155,225 homes of persons destitute of the holy book and gave away 55,725,150 pages of the saving truth.

The Three Forks Enterprise says that during the rise of Sunday the 18th, 765 carts containing 66,000 logs, passed Beattyville in two days. There were 2,000 men in charge of them.

The Louisville tobacco market on Tuesday is quoted as follows: Dark trash $3½; colony trash $4½; common lugs $1.50; bright color lugs $1.50; common leaf $6.50; medium to good leaf $7.50; @ 50¢; medium to good leaf color $9.50; 13¢ fine leaf $13.50.

Dale & Deunish have purchased about 20,000 pounds of wool at 18 to 20 cents—[Georgetown Times].

WINCHESTER COURT DAY.—About 600 head of cattle on the market, sales good. An extra lot of 1,215-lb. cattle brought $5.76 per cwt; good yearlings from $35 to 40 per head; scrubs averaged from $30 to 40 per cwt; trade dull in mules; 50 head of horses sold at from $30 to 60. The crowd very large and business more satisfactory for some time.

HALLS GAP, LINCOLN COUNTY.

Mrs. Jno. Ball is very low with consumption.

Most of the lumber for the new church building is now upon the ground and it will soon be under process of construction.

Jas. H. Boone is negotiating with a photographic firm, preparatory to having his picture placed in the gallery of "possible presidents."

There were eight initiations at the good Templars Lodge Thursday night, making a total membership of twenty-five and an increase of ten in the short space of three weeks.

Miss Dora Cash is at home from College, but will return in a few days. Mrs. Susan Menefee is back again after an absence of several weeks visiting the family of Mrs. Duncan, of Wayne county. Mr. S. L. Ware left Wednesday to visit his daughter, Mrs. Kendall, at Junction City.

We were most delightfully entertained Friday evening last at a social party given at Mr. Jas. Dudderar's. The ladies were all very becomingly attired and could not be excelled in vivacity, brilliancy, beauty and all other requisites necessary to call forth the admiration of men. We desire very much to express our many thanks and at the same time our appreciation of the entertaining qualities of the host and hostess. May we sometime have a repetition.

Mrs. C. L. Holmes, of Louisville, will visit friends here about the 5th of May.

Died last week, Mr. William Linthicum, aged about 80 years. Mr. Linthicum had been in a low state of health for sometime. He was a good citizen and leaves many friends and relatives to mourn his loss.

The writer, in company with W. C. Richards, and the two champion dippers, Sam Leeper and Morg Bastin, was on a fishing expedition below Roy's mill on last Friday night and Saturday morning and caught a large amount of fine fish.

C. L. Holmes, of Middleburg, has sold out to Messrs. Collinworth & Cotton, of Boyle county. They are two energetic business men and are likely to make things lively around the town. As for C. L. Holmes he appears to be like a ship without a rudder at the mercy of the reckless waves. It is possible he may resume his grip and take the road again (not as a highwayman but as a drummer) Louie here so long in this section he seems almost as an established institution; his general face will be sadly missed. But we are assured that his absence will only be temporary. Wherever he may go there are fascinations about the place which will lure the wanderer back again.

William Lipe, a young man aged about 25 years, was taken to the lunatic asylum from Liberty by his father a few days since. While gloomy and despondent he exhibited no violence. There appears to be a prejudice in the minds of many and we think with just grounds against the manner of treatment in lunatic asylums generally. Cases have been known to have been sent there which turned fatal and afterwards was proven to be other diseases, which might have yielded to skillful nursing and treatment at home.

From the writer's own medical reading young Lipe had many of the symptoms of hypochondria. We think all parents should pause before sending their offspring to such institutions, and be satisfied that they are unmanageable and, it is their interest to send them there.

Religious services will be held at the school house on the fourth Sunday in each month by the Rev. Gibon, of Hustonville.

The little girl of Mr. Jas. Allen was run over by a rockaway a few days ago, but fortunately escaped with only a few bruises.

The twin baby girl of W. R. Gooch has been seriously ill for the past week, but we are glad to know that she is now improving.

L. F. Sharp, late of Hustonville but now a resident of this place, is remodeling and improving the Commercial Hotel, of which he is owner.

A number of farmers near here have been quite unfortunate lately in having their sheep and lambs killed by dogs. L. T. Tanner and Wm. Coffey being the heavy losers. Two of the dogs were identified and killed.

Our little town has greatly improved within the last year. It now consists of two churches, seven stores, flour mill, tobacco barns, two hotels, an undertaker, and a first-class livery stable. The spoke business is on a boom here at present and this branch of business has advanced considerably within the past month.

MONTGOMERY, Apr. 27.—Allow me to report that the democrat of our county met in convention and nominated William L. Hall as their standard bearer in the next legislative contest. TO THE VOTERS OF LINCOLN COUNTY.

Perceiving, as I do, that the rose-colored representations being made by the advocates of the railroad aid measure which is to be voted on next month, are calc'el to deceive and induce men to support it under a false belief that the proposed aid, if granted, so far from being a burthen upon the county will prove an actual blessing and an immensely profitable investment to the people, I take the liberty of submitting to you some suggestions and figures on that subject.

The first suggestion I have to make is, that the question is not whether we will grant the aid and secure the road or refuse the aid and lose the road. It is almost self evident that the mere sum of $25,000 would not suffice to induce the locating of the road through this county. No such promise as that has ever been made by those representing the road; but on the contrary we have been repeatedly told by its President that the company would make no promises on the subject, but would weigh all considerations, such as distance, cost of construction and offered aid, too and then, after considering all these things, select the location that might seem best for the interest of the company. So we are asked to grant the aid with the full knowledge that we are nearly or quite as apt to obtain the road if we refuse it, as we will be if we grant it. This reduces the proposition to a naked one of making a donation to the corporation, not because it will induce it to come here, but as a compliment, as an evidence of our "good will," as some express it—a pretty costly compliment, by the way.

In order to furnish the $25,000, as proposed, the county will have to issue its interest bearing bonds for that amount—in other words, the proposition is to borrow $25,000 to give to immensely wealthy capitalists, and strangers at that. It is claimed that the debt to thus incurred can be extinguished in a very short time with the taxes to be derived from the road after it is built; and that thereafter will be a fortune for the county in those taxes—and all this without increasing the rate of taxation. Now let us make some figures about this matter:

The length of the road within the county is estimated to be 15 miles. The tax valuation of this at $30,000 per mile would be $450,000 and the tax to be derived from it annually, at 20 cents per $100 (the highest rate ever yet imposed in this county) would amount to just $900. The interest on $25,000 per year at 6 per cent would be $1,500, which is $600 more than the annual tax on the road. This demonstrates that instead of extinguishing the debt with the railroad tax without increasing the rate, we will lack $600 per year of paying the interest alone. A little calculation will show that in order to raise money enough through tax on this road to even pay the interest on the debt, the rate of tax would have to be 33 instead of 20 cents on the $100. But as taxation must be uniform and equal, if we impose this rate (33%) upon the railroad we must impose the same rate upon all other property in the county.

Let us take another view of it: The total value of the taxable property in the county, including railroads, is now in round numbers $5,000,000. Add to this the value of the proposed new road at $30,000 per mile and the amount is $5,470,000. Now of this aggregate the value of the new road would be a little less than one twelfth (1-12) part. This being so it follows that the new railroad company never can by any possible arrangement be made to pay more than one twelfth part of the debt proposed to be contracted. For it will be the debt of the whole county and must be paid by a tax on the property of the whole county, equally and alike. I repeat that whether the debt shall be paid at once, by a single levy, or paid in installments running through a long series of years, the railroad company can never be made to pay more than one-twelfth part of it. Of course I do not mean to deny that the county court could, if it chose to do so, appropriate all of the tax arising from the new road to the payment of the debt, but as that would leave all of the other expenses and liabilities of the county to be borne by the residue of the taxable property of the county the result would be the same in effect as if no such arrangement were made. The new road would still be bearing only 1-12 part of the tax burdens of the county, whatever they might be.

It is argued that the construction of the road would add about half a million to the taxable property of the county, and that therefore, the giving of $25,000 would be an excellent investment. This argument could only be good, if good at all, in case the making of the gift would of itself procure the locating of the road here, which I deny. But let us assume, for argument's sake, that by giving the money we will get the road, whereas by refusing it we will lose the road. Now, as tempting as the proposition is that form would be any one way that such policy is either sound in principle or just in its operation and effects upon the tax payers? Would it not be equally just and right to tax the people of the county for the purpose of inducing a capitalist to erect a costly mill or factory in Stanford or Hustonville? Would it not, in fact, be equally just and right to pay any citizen out of the public money a bounty for improving his own property? If the advantages to be derived from the policy of encouraging improvements by donations are really such as the advocates of the scheme under consideration claim for it, then the more we have of that policy the better. It ought to be enlarged and played for all it is worth. It would be advisable for the county court to impose a regular and liberal annual tax for the purpose of providing a standing fund out of which to pay reward to every citizen for improving his property and thus increasing its taxable value.

There is another fact that is worth considering in connection with this affair. By a provision of the charter of the Chesapeake & Nashville road its property is to be exempt from all taxes for five years from the date of its completion. Such being the case, in the event the debt is contracted by the county as proposed, the county would have to pay interest on it for five years, amounting to $7,500, before it could derive anything by taxation from the road, and it never could derive anything from that source with which to pay that interest any more than it could re-imburse itself for money paid on the courthouse debt ten years ago.

But leaving the question of prospective advantages and disadvantages out of consideration, is it right for a majority to compel a minority of the citizens to contribute their earnings to any body for any purpose? The Supreme Court of the United States says no. In the celebrated Topeka case—a case involving precisely the same principles as that under discussion—that court said: "To lay with one hand the power of the Government on the property of the citizen and with the other bestow it upon favored individuals, to aid private enterprises and build up private fortunes, is worse than robbery to use it as done under the forms of the law and is called usury."

Our experience in the matter of railroad taxes in Lincoln county has not been such as to raise very high hopes of prosperity to come from that kind of source. The L. & N. company owes to the county its taxes for 1876 and 1877, amounting on an assessment made by the county court of only $1,500 per mile, to $800, which it has stubbornly refused and still refuses to pay, and the master is now and has been for several years in litigation. It has refused and still refuses to pay a part of its taxes $10 for 1882 and 1883, on an assessment by the State Board of $12,500 per mile. It has not paid a cent of tax for the year 1884, and owes for that year $542. It justly owes the county altogether $1,615. The C. S. railroad refused to pay its taxes for '82 and '83 on an assessment of $30,000 per mile made by the State Board and by agreement with the county court paid on a valuation of $10,000 per mile, leaving the balance unpaid until the assessment question should be decided by the court. That balance is $10,000 and it still owes its tax for 1883 to the amount of $1,436, and owes in all $2,432. So you perceive that there is justly due—long past due—the Lincoln company for all three roads over $1,000 and no prospect whatever of its payment. And these are the kind of people toward whom we are urged to show "good will" in the form of twenty five thousand dollar donations.

For the reasons herein above set forth and the additional reason that to take the step proposed would be setting a precedent out of which, as I believe, would grow much greater harm to the county than the benefits to accrue from the road could ever compensate for, I, for one, shall vote in the negative. J. BLAIN

The reader will now turn to the second page and take the antidote to the poison just administered.—[ED.]

RAILROAD AID QUESTION.

The Lincoln County Court at its April term, 1883, made an order subduing to the qualified voters of the county, until an election to be held on the several voting precincts of the county, on Saturday, May 10th, 1885, the following question:

"Whether the county of Lincoln shall issue bonds to an amount not exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars on the credit and responsibility of the whole county, to be expended in acquiring title to, or the right of way over a strip of land through the county of Lincoln, beginning at or near Stanford-Richwood Junction and extending thence westerly by or near to Hustonville to the Casey County line, upon the general width of not more than seventy-five feet, and such additional grounds as may be needed for that purpose and such land at Stanford as may be needed for depot buildings, machine shops, round houses, water supply and such other buildings and structures as may be used to said railroad, and to permit the county to dispose of said property when so acquired to said Railroad Company upon such reasonable terms and in such manner as to compensation as may be agreed upon by said county, through its Commissioners, and said Railroad Company, as permitted by an Act of the General Assembly of Kentucky, entitled 'An Act to authorize Lincoln County to raise money to aid in the construction of a railroad through said county,' approved May 1, 1884."

The undersigned were appointed a committee by the Court and directed to have the above stated action of the Court published for the information of the voters of the county, and we have adopted this method of performing that duty.

J. BLAIN,
THOS. W. VARON, Committee.

PREACHERSVILLE, LINCOLN COUNTY

—Our farmers are progressing finely, corn planting. Oats all up and growing well and wheat universally a dead issue. —Mr. John G. Sargent has sold his farm on Dix River for $10,000 cash, price given 1st of Oct. next. George Penec is the purchaser.

—We have so far escaped the hammered horse, skating rink and base ball craze, but many of our farmers are wrestling with the tobacco fever and we trust will not suffer from it.

—Miss Allie Stuart, one of the most deservedly popular teachers of the county, is teaching a subscription school here. Her gentle, Christian manners make her thrice welcome among us.

—As soon as corn-planting is well through we hope our road surveyors will call the willing and industrious together and improve the condition of the county roads, which have been most shamefully neglected.

—Eq. John Anderson says fishing is no count this spring, and John should know if anybody does. He is our economical farmer who carries six bacon hams in one pair of saddlebags to market at one trip.

—We hear much complaint from people on the river of some one throwing carcasses of dead animals in the stream, which, by the way, is an indictable offense and the next grand jury, unless it ceases, will doubtless be entertained with a report of the same.

—Allow us, one and all, all to protest in the plainest and most positive manner against the obliging (?) proposal of Mr. Hal's Gap to move our voting place from Walnut Flat to that spreading metropolis. All of this side of the river would then have to go 7 or 8 miles while Halls trip now has to go only 2 to 2½ miles. We'll say to you later about this little move, my dear people.

—From the same locality also comes a breath of gladness on account of Wm. M. Ball's closing week of his distillery for this season. Several chicken-roosts in this vicinity have been robbed recently and it is generally believed for roosts at that intolerable nuisance. A revival of the efficacious K. K. K. would be a blessing to the people who have to endure the evils and annoyances they are subjected to during his manufacture of the elixir of death.

—We are at some difference on the railroad election, but believe and hope the proposition now before the people will be sustained. A county of such varied resources as ours, should not in her present prosperous condition be longer pointed to as the greatest laggard in all enterprises. Tell the people through the INTERIOR JOURNAL all the advantages that will surely accrue to the county through the proposed road and make a copy to every housekeeper who is not a subscriber, that they may not depend on the word of mouth for facts concerning the matter, as in very truth many are confused on the subject, owing to the exaggeration and misrepresentation of some who oppose the measure.
